

UNIT 3 – TELEPHONING 000 (TRIPLE ZERO)

MAKING THE CALL

Triple zero (000) should be called only when you need the police, the fire service or an ambulance. If you don't speak English very well, you can ask for an interpreter.

When you call Triple Zero, you will be asked:

1. Do you want police, fire or ambulance?
2. What is the address of the emergency?
3. What is the nearest cross street?
4. What is happening? What is the emergency?
5. Is anybody inside the house?

Match each answer below with a question above.
The first one is done for you.

a. Do you want police, fire or ambulance?

The fire brigade please

b. _____

27 Lawrence Street, Wodonga.

c. _____

Matthew's Lucky Escape

I got home from work one day feeling very tired and hungry. I put some noodles into a saucepan with some water. I put them on the electric stove and turned it on.

My friend Kareem was in the lounge room watching TV. I said 'hi' to him and sat down on the lounge chair next to him. We must have both fallen asleep.

The next thing I knew I was being woken by two firefighters dressed in gold uniforms and breathing masks. I started to cough a lot and my eyes were stinging. The lounge room was full of grey smoke. The firefighters helped us to escape out the front door to the fresh air. I was feeling really bad. They put oxygen masks on us. I started to feel much better.

Kareem and I watched the firefighters go back in the unit. One of them carried a black saucepan with smoke coming from it out of the unit. He put some water on it. Another firefighter was opening all the windows and doors in our unit. Smoke was coming out everywhere. The firefighters used a ladder to climb on the roof.

Our neighbour had rung 000 (Triple Zero) and called the fire brigade. The smoke alarm in our unit had a flat battery and didn't work. If the smoke alarm had activated it would have woken us very quickly. I had been silly leaving the kitchen and falling asleep while something was cooking. Kareem and I were very lucky to survive this fire.

JOSHUA'S STORY – ORDERING EVENTS

1. Read each paragraph of the story. They are in the correct order.
2. Cut out each paragraph and mix them up.
3. Glue each paragraph onto a piece of paper. Make sure the story is back in the correct order.
4. Read the story again.

I was on my way to my friend's house. I was listening to the radio and not concentrating on driving my car. I crashed into another car.

My car was badly damaged. I took off my seat belt. I could not open the car door to get out. My head was hurting after the road accident.

I saw the driver of the other car talking on his mobile phone. He was looking very worried. He was asking for the fire brigade & the ambulance.

I heard sirens. A fire truck arrived. Then an ambulance came. The firefighters used a tool called the 'jaws of life' to open my car door.

The ambulance paramedics put a cervical collar around my neck. They gave me pain relief. They were very professional.

The firefighters controlled the busy traffic. They helped keep me and the paramedics safe.

I was gently put into the ambulance and transported to hospital. I was feeling a lot better.

I was lucky that I had not been badly hurt. My seat belt probably saved me. I will always pay attention when I am driving from now on.

Khalid's Heart Attack

Last year, we were in the mosque at the end of Ramadan. Everyone was feeling happy and relaxed. Suddenly my grandfather, Khalid, collapsed on the floor. "Help him please!" my father cried, and we all rushed over to him.

My brother, Hussein, quickly got out his mobile phone. He dialled 000 (triple zero), said "Ambulance" and waited. He spoke to another operator and said, "We're at the mosque." He told her the address and the nearest cross street. Then he told her what had happened. He said, "My grandfather has collapsed and seems to be in great pain. He doesn't answer when I call him."

In about five minutes we heard sirens. A fire truck arrived. Someone said, "No, no there is no fire. We called an ambulance!" But the firefighters said, "The ambulance is on the way. We will look after the patient until the ambulance arrives."

The firefighters gave grandfather emergency help. They gave him oxygen. I ran outside to look for the ambulance.

When the ambulance paramedics arrived, I took them to grandfather. They treated him and then took him to hospital in the ambulance. My father went in the ambulance too.

It was terrible, but I am happy to say that my grandfather, Khalid, is fine now. Thankyou to the firefighters and the ambulance paramedics for looking after him.
